SERVICES IS NOW A PART OF UFS

Uniform Security and Facility Pvt. Ltd (USF) offers training to the security personnel and professional in a carefully engineered environment. The courses are specifically designed by security experts in order to nurture the student's vocational skills and technical abilities.

Uniform Security Training Institute provides Vocational Skills training in Haryana and Delhi NCR regions. Uniform Security Training Institute is an approved training Institute by PSARA controlling Authority Haryana. We are also partner of National Skills Development Corporation (NSDC) and affiliated with Security Sector Skills Development Council (SSSDC) now MEPSC.

Our training centre in Jhajjar Haryana, serves as excellent grounds to provide industry grade training to all of our guards. Our training modules are rigorous, intense and compliant with various regulations set by the Indian Government.

A security guard needs to be multi-disciplinary in that he/she needs to be able to identify a possible threat situation before it occurs, take preventive measures, use lethal/non-lethal force to contain a situation, provide assistance in maintenance tasks to ensure proper hygienic conditions of the premises and provide any assistive measures required to the client and citizen.

All of the above as well as a host of other services are required out of a security guard, which makes training an imperative part of the process. But it isn't just training with regards to services that a guard must undergo, training with regards to a guard's psychological state of mind and temperament are often overlooked yet extremely crucial parts of the training module. In most cases the use of lethal force is not required to calm a situation and a guard's quick response and tactful thinking can passively resolve a threat situation. Training in how to separate one's personal emotions while on the field is also a prerequisite for which training is required.

Keeping the guards agile, fit and alert psychologically train the guards to tactfully manage a crisis situation without the use of lethal force greatly enhancing a guard's E.S.P. (Extrasensory Perception, or more commonly known as 'sixth sense') so that he/she is subconsciously aware of his/her surroundings and is able to pick up subtle warning signals.

For over Four Year Uniform Security and Facility Pvt.
